RUN DOWN BY A TRAIN.

MR. YOUNG MEETS FEARFUL DEATH IN EAST DURHAM.

Never Knew What Struck Him—Did Not Realize Danger—Was a Son of R. A. Young.

Special to Raleigh Post.

Durham, Feb. 16—An accident that was fearful in its results happened this morning just before the eastbound passenger train reached East Durham.

Earnest P. Young, about 22 years of age, whose home was near Cary, was struck by a passenger train on the Southern road and instantly killed. His brains were knocked out and it is probable that he never knew what struck him. The train struck him just as he was leaving the track and knocked him on the side track, with his head between the two tracks. Those who saw the accident say that he was walking down one track looking at a train that was passing on another and did not realize his danger.

Mr. Young was a son of Mr. R. A. Young, who lives about two miles from Cary, and was here on a visit to his uncle, Dr. W. D. Young. The young man was a school teacher. Last June he graduated from the Cary High School with honors and won a scholarship in Wake Forest College. Soon after his graduation he was taken down with an attack of typhoid fever. When the fall session at Wake Forest opened he was not able to enter, and decided to put off his college days another year. Not long afterwards he was given a public school and entered upon his duties as a teacher. About two weeks ago an epidemic of measles broke out in his school, and he had to suspend teaching for a few weeks. It was then that he came up to East Durham on a visit to his uncle.

This morning he started from Dr. Young's towards the East Durham drug store, and was going down the main track of the Southern road. The Durham & Northern train was also going out, running on a parallel track. It is supposed that he was watching the Durham & Northern train and did not hear the approach of the train that caused his death. This was bearing down on him at a rapid rate from behind. A few feet before the train was upon its victim the engineer realized the dangerous position of the young man, and gave the danger signal. It was too late. Just as he was stepping from the track he was struck. After striking the ground he never moved and death was instantaneous.

THE CURRENCY BILL AS A LAW

Will Take From the Secretary the Possibility of Paying in Silver.

Charlotte Observer.

The currency bill passed the senate Thursday. It will be signed by the president, and in a day or two will be a law. There has been a good deal of loose talk for the past four years about an effort to "fasten the gold standard on the country"—as if the country had not been on a gold basis since 1873—and in reason this talk about 'an effort" ought to stop now, for the bill certainly confirms by legislation the financial policy which has been in practice for 27 years. That is to say, the law-making power has now said in distinct terms, but for the first time, what the intelligence of the country and of all the world has known for all these years, that gold is the standard of value of the United States. This is the first effect of the legislation; the the next is the withdrawal from any secretary of the treasury, who may chance to be appointed hereafter, the power which any secretary has heretofore had, to change the financial policy of the country by refusing to pay gold when demanded and giving silver instead on the "coin" obligations of the government. "Coin" is hereafter to be understood as gold, and future secretaries, until this law is repealed, have no latitude of interpretation. As to repeal, the complexion of the senate is such that this cannot be hoped for for at least six years, and any campaigns in behalf of free silver that may be waged between now and then can at best be regarded as only educational.

The provisions of the bill, other than those discussed above, are of minor consequence. Our dispatches give a very satisfactory statement of the more important of these. The democrats offered but feeble opposition to the bill in either house, and its passage has been expected, though not so early.

THE COLLEGE IN FINE SHAPE.

About Three Hundred Young Ladies in Attendance.

BRIGHT, CHEERFUL AND HAPPY.

There Are No Lingering Traces of Last Year's Epidemic at the State Normal and Industrial College.

The reopening of the State Normal and Industrial College a little more than two weeks ago with two hundred and fifty students, was published in the newspapers at the time, and the news was received with delight by all friends of that popular institution. The number has now swelled to about three hundred, and the regular routine college work is being carried on with energy and enthusiasm. There is nothing left to call to the mind of the student the sad calamity which befell the institution last fall.

A committee from the board of aldermen of the city of Greensboro and a committee from the Industrial and Immigration Association made a joint visit to the institution yesterday and were shown through the buildings and about the premises. A Telegram man accompanied them and is glad to write of the things he saw.

The library was the first place visited. The room formerly used as a library is now set apart as a reception room and for the use of the faculty. The present library is much larger, being the former gymnasium room. New furniture, consisting of tables, book cases and chairs, manufactured in this county, some at High Point and some in this city, has been put in. Miss Petty, the librarian, keeps everything in neat and perfect order. The party next visited the bursar's office, where Mr. Forney's admirable system of bookkeeping was incidentally noticed.

Stopping for a few minutes in the president's office, Dr. McIver pointed out photographs of the different graduating classes from the time the college was founded. The third class was a remarkably large one and is interesting from the fact that nearly every member of it represents a different county and the counties are distributed from the mountains to the sea, embracing every section of the state.

The dormitories were visited; also the dining room and kitchen. It would do any tidy housekeeper's heart good to see the splendid condition in which these different places are kept. The rooms in the dormitories are cozy and comfortable, furnished with new iron beds, new springs and mattresses, and are well lighted and ventilated. The large dining room is perfect in its appointments and most inviting in appearance. The kitchen is clean to a fault and the odor of cooking made us want to remain for dinner.

The practice school was visited and faithful teachers were busy instructing little tots in the things which constitute the foundation of an education. Other places of interest claimed the attention of the committee, including the infirmary, the flower house, the new meat house and the new store room.

We were invited into the chapel and introduced to about three hundred young ladies, the hall being well filled, and at Dr. McIver's request, they sung the college song, "The Old North State Forever." It is always a pleasure to visit the State Normal and Industrial College, but it is specially so now when that institution is emerging so cheerfully and grandly from the unfortunate disaster which recently befell it.

We believe that a recurrence of such an epidemic has been rendered well nigh impossible, and hope the progress of the college will never again be interrupted.

THE OFFICIAL STATEMENT.

The undersigned committees, on the part of the board of aldermen of the city of Greensboro and from the Industrial and Immigration Association, acting jointly, visited the State Normal and Industrial College on Friday, Feb. 16. It gives us genuine pleasure to testify to the exhaustive and thorough work which has been done in every place about the buildings and grounds to protect the institution against all possible infection.

We found the main building in splendid condition, the college work progressing in fine shape, and there are no lingering traces suggestive of the deplorable epidemic through which the institution recently passed. There are now about three hundred young ladies in attendance at the college, all bright, cheerful and happy in their work.

A look through the dormitories revealed the fact that most thorough has been the work of renovating and refurnishing the rooms. All woodwork has been repainted and the plastered walls recalcimined. The old double beds have been removed and in their places are single iron bedsteads with new springs and mattresses and other furnishings. New plumbing has been installed and new bath tubs provided. The kitchen and dining rooms are models of cleanliness. A new meat house and refrigerator has been put up, apart and separate from all other buildings, and a new, large, well lighted and ventilated store room arranged.

The infirmary was visited and found to be in excellent condition, admirably adapted to the purpose for which it was built. In a word, all the buildings and the premises indicate that everything possible conducive to perfectly healthful conditions has been done. A perfect system of sterilizing drinking water has been installed, and in addition to this President McIver tells us that the apparatus for a perfect system of filtration has been ordered and will soon be put in.

The dairy is situate at a point remote from the college buildings and the drain therefrom is in an opposite direction from the college grounds.

After looking over the buildings and grounds, we are unanimously of the opinion that the healthful conditions at this institution cannot be surpassed, and we believe any man's daughter or sister would be as safe there as anywhere in the country.

FOR DIRECT INCOME TAX

MR. KLUTTZ, OF NORTH CAROLINA'S, BILL TO AMEND CONSTITUTION

Congressman Bellamy Asks for $10,000 to Beautify the Grounds of Moore's Creek Battlefield.

Special to The Telegram.

Washington, Feb. 18—A. C. Kaufman has gone to Richmond, Virginia. He has taken the trip to the Virginia capital in order to confer with Governor Tyler, the mayor of Richmond, superintendent of public instruction, and leading Virginia educators in relation with the coming convention of the national educational association to be held at Charleston next July. He is much interested in the success of the convention, and it was largely through his personal efforts and influence that the general committee of the national educational association was secured for Charleston. It is said that there will be large delegations visiting Charleston next summer from both Virginia and North Carolina. The Virginia authorities have promised their hearty co-operation in the convention, a distinguished delegation from Richmond will be in attendance. The railroads of this section, through the influence of Colonel Turk, of the Southern, and others, are doing all in their power to make the Charleston convention of the national educational association one of the biggest that has been held in the history of the association. Col. Turk is an accomplished southern gentleman, and has the interest of every state through which his road runs at heart. H. W. Fuller, of the Chesapeake & Ohio, has also been doing some good work in behalf of the Charleston convention, and through his efforts the most liberal concessions of his own, and connecting lines have been secured, which will enable a large number of the members from the western states to attend the convention. The Pennsylvania, and Baltimore & Ohio railroads are also doing everything possible for the success of the convention.

Altogether the outlook for the Charleston convention is very bright, and the belief of Mr. Kaufman, and others interested is that there will be a very large number of visitors in Charleston next July.

Representative Klutz of North Carolina has introduced in the House an amendment to the United States Constitution. The amendment provides a way to enable congress to pass a direct tax on incomes. The bill has referred to the committee on the Judiciary.

Representative Bellamy, of North Carolina, has introduced a bill for the appropriation of ten thousand dollars to inclose and beautify the grounds and to repair the monument on Moore's Creek battlefield, North Carolina. The bill has been referred to the committee on the library.

General James A. Walker, of Virginia, who has been in Washington for sometime, went to Richmond day for the purpose attending the Thursday to attend the meeting of the Virginia republican state committee. Among others who went to Richmond for the same purpose was Mr. Agnew, collector of internal revenue, and Postmaster Crupper, of Alexandria. There is much talk in Washington abont the selection of Collector Brady as a member of the republican national committee.

Among republicans from Virginia in Washington there is talk of a reorganization and strengthening of the party in Virginia for the coming political campaign in the old dominion. There will, it is said, be a full electoral ticket in the field, and congressional candidates in every district. The republicans hope to be able to carry two or three of the congressional districts. The districts they have the most hopes of carrying next fall are the Second, Ninth and Tenth.

Representative Bellamy has presented a petition to the house signed by J. B. Mercer, D. L. Gore and other citizens of Brunswick and New Hanover counties, North Carolina, including the Chamber of Commerce and the Produce Exchange of Wilmington, for an appropriation for the improvement of Lockwood's Folly river, North Carolina.

Senator Butler, of North Carolina, and Senator Allen, of Nebraska, have gone to Lincoln, Nebraska, to attend the meeting of the national committee of the populist party to be held next Monday.

GENERAL CRONJE FLYING

Seventy-Eight Wagons of Ammunition and Stores Captured

BRITISH ARE IN HOT PURSUIT

The Casualties Light in View of the Tremendous Bombardment—9,000 Men Retreat.

London, Feb. 17—A Jacobsdal dispatch dated last night says that Cronje's nine thousand men and all the force around Kimberly are in full retreat, with Kelly and Kenny pursuing. Cronje has been compelled to abandon provision and ammunition trains, which are being picked up by the British. Kelly and Kenney are harrassing the Boer rear and taking prisoners. Cronje is maintaining all possible haste to Bloomfontein. Boers are reported to be leaving Spytfontein and going in a northwesterly direction. As a result of Thursday's fighting they captured a large British convoy. The British loss is thirty wounded and one killed, quite insignificant considering the tremendous bombardment.

FRENCH'S TROOPS ENTHUSIASTICALLY RECEIVED AT KIMBERLY.

London, Feb. 17—General Robert's dispatch to the war office says that seventy-eight wagons stored with ammunition and supplies were taken from the Boers yesterday, besides quantities of shells and explosives from Cronje's laager, which was still being shelled when Kitchener sent his messenger.

French's troops were enthusiastically received at Kimberly. The officers were dined at the club.

RELIGION IN THE TRANSVAAL

Precious Little Liberty Allowed to Any But The Established Church.

Raleigh Post.

What sort of a republic is it which not only prescribes that members of its legislative body must be professors of religion, but prescribes what religion they must profess?

That is just what the constitution of "our sister republic" in South Africa does.

"Members of both chambers must be thirty years of age, possess fixed property and profess the Protestant religion," are the words of that instrument.

Speaking of this constitution the Legal adviser says that it "welcomes all comers, but declares that equality between the white and colred races shall not be tolerated either in state or church. It forbids the existence within the alleged republic of any Roman Catholic churches or of any churches whatever save such as teach the doctrines of the Heidelberg catechism. It is said that this prohibition has to some extent been tacitly ignored, so that a few churches of other than Dutch faith are now tolerated. To this day, however, it is unlawful for a Dutch minister to baptize a negro, to administer the eucharist to him, or to perform the marriage ceremony over a negro couple, the Boer belief being that the negroes have no souls."

Notwithstanding the discriminations against all churches except one, the United Dutch Reformed church, there are many members of other denominations in Kruger's "republic," there being even a few Roman Catholic. The estimated statistics are:

United Dutch Reformed ch	30,000
Other Dutch	32,400
English church	30,000
Wesleyans	10,000
Roman Catholics	5,000
Presbyterians	8,000
Other Christian churches	5,000
Jews	10,000

In this peculiar republic "the existence of Roman Catholic churches and Jewish synagogues," says a commentator on this constitution, is on sufferance and not of right, and both Catholics and Jews are rigidly excluded from all political rights except in individual cases where the thrifty government makes the concession for a consideration. It should be understood that no constitutional or statutory guarantee in the Transvaal is worth a rush if the president and the volksraad see fit to override or ignore it. These bodies are a law unto themselves, and President Kruger is a law unto the volksraad."

BRILLIANT WORK OF FRENCH.

The Best Fighter of the South African Generals

HOW KIMBERLY WAS RELIEVED

The Hands of the Strategist and the Organizer Now Getting in Their Work

Charlotte Observer:

A pretty game of war has been going on in South Africa for the past two weeks, and it has ended in the invasion of the Orange Free State and the relief of Kimberley by the British, the first great victory of the war for England, and victory, too, won more by strategy than by fighting and in which we believe the master hand of Herbert Kitchener is to be seen.

Since the battle of Magersfontein, Gen. Methuen and Gen. Cronje have been quiescent, each strengthening his fortifications just north of the Modder river. Gen. Lord Roberts has taken command here himself. He has withdrawn Gen. French from Rensburg with the greater part of his troops, thus concentrating a force of 47,000 infantry, with adequate cavalry and artillery for the relief of Kimberley. On Tuesday General French, who has proven the best Boer-fighter of all the British South African generals, began a 25-mile march eastward along the south bank of the Modder river to Klip drift, which he seized while part of his forces made a feint at Rondeval drift, four miles west of Klip drift. A drift between the two was also used to cross the river. The force which crossed at Klip drift captured three Boer laagers, or camps, while the force crossing at Rondeval drift captured two others. These laagers appeared to have been largely deserted, the Boers at the time having been moved elsewhere and the British attack here taking them by surprise. Gen. French's force is a mounted division of infantry, with horses artillery, so his movement has been a brilliant and dashing one, by which he opened the road from Jacobsdal, just north of where he crossed, running northwesterly 20 miles to Kimberley, and by which he marched to the relief of that beseiged city, reaching it Thursday.

There does not appear to have been much fighting, as the Boers had no strong defences along this route. Gen. French has thus cut Cronje's communications with Jacobsdal, where he got most of his supplies, and with Broemfontein, farther eastward. If not in a trap, Gen. Cronje, at Magersfontein, is at serious disadvantage. Gen. Methuen is south of him at Modder river; Gen. French is north of him at Kimberley, while Gen. Roberts is east of him at Jacobsdal. His only escape appears to be northwardly, 20 or 25 miles, across the Vaal river to Barkly West, and then in a wide detour around towards Fourteen Streams on into the Transvaal Republic. And he will have to hustle to get there, because French's force is mounted and eager to keep up its brilliant dashing movements.

The increased force with Gen. Roberts depleted the British strength at Colesberg, which is about 20 miles south of the Orange river, on the railroad. Directly south of Colesburg is Rensburg. The Boers soon discovered the weakness and drove the latter first out of the former place into the latter, and again out of Rensburg to a point south of it. They thus threaten Naauwpoort, still further south, from which a line of railroad runs westward 80 miles to De Aar. At the latter point supplies and stores in great quantity have been collected by the British. If the Boers could reach the railroad here, they would cut Gen. Robert's communications—they would get it between him and Cape Town. But they are a long distance away yet. The Boers are said to have with them Col. Villebois de Mareuiel, a Frenchman, noted as a tactician in his own country, he having come to Colesburg from Gen. Joubert's army. He is called by the Boers the Lafayette of South Africa." To him much of the excellent Boer strategy in the Cape Colony region has been attributed.

But it yet remains to be seen whether or not the Boers in Cape Colony may not be entrapped. If Gen. Roberts move eastward to Bloemfontein or points south of it, the Boer armies in the Colony would be between two British armies. It will be interesting to note in the next few days whether Gen. Roberts' success will have the effect of hurrying these forces northward to the defence of their home country, or whether they will dare to make the attempt to press their recent advantages further.

The British are now in the Orange Free State at two points, one at Jacobsdal; the other across the Orange river at Zoutpan's drift, which is at the sharp angle made by the meeting of the southern and western boundary lines of the Free State.

One of the greatest advantagages resulting from the relief of Kimberley will be the acquisition to the British of the counsel of Cecil Rhodes, with his clear brain and superb knowledge of the South African country.

ISN'T IT TIME TO CHANGE?

It seems that the dominant sentiment of this country is with the Boers in their struggle against England. For this we can see no good explanation unless it is that our people are disposed to take snap judgment in favor of the Dutchmen in the belief that the war is an attempt of England to seize the territory of a weaker power, on any pretext, right or wrong. The American training has been such as to foster this idea, the fact being that up to a very recent time nothing was so popular as a tirade against the "red coats;" we had not been treated right by "the mother country" and we did not forget it. But now the people of the United States ought to be able to consider things in the light of recent events. They should not forget the notorious fact that these same British we are now abusing, no longer ago than the spring of 1898, either directly or indirectly, kept Europe off of our backs, and gave us a free hand to strike Spain with. We should consider that our brother, across the sea, after being forced by President Cleveland to recognize once and for all the Monroe Doctrine, set about assiduously to make friends with us, and more than once have they lent us a friendly hand in foreign places when we needed it. As a little son of Albion remarked the other day, whenever there seemed to be troubles for our people or representatives in foreign countries "there Hengland put down and staid hall night." The policy of expansion is now irrevocably settled for the United States, and consequently we are going often to need the friendly hand of our British kin. Say whatever you will, and it all amounts to the fact that we need England, England needs us, and the world needsboth.

The fearful death of a young man in Durham yesterday on a railroad track suggests the inquiry why in the world people will persist in walking tracks on which trains are passing every few minutes.

A press dispatch from Birmingham says the recent victory of Governor Johnson in Russell and Winston counties has brought the race between the Governor and Senator Morgan to a very close finish. For the sake of the country at large, for the south particularly, and for the triumph of statesmanship over politics, we hope General Morgan may be returned to his seat in the United States senate, a seat which he adorns.

In the house of lords Thursday, Lord Rosebery said:

It becomes the government to take a large grasp of the situation and to make adequate proposals. If Great Britain were to lose South Africa she would lose the most important base outside of the United Kingdom, and she would lose that colonial support which has been given because the colonies have believed they were associating themselves with a powerful empire, and thus the empire would break away from us. If this be not a life and debth crisis, I do not know what it is.

And because it is a life and death crisis, in a measure, and because the crippling of the British Empire would be the greatest disaster that could happen to the world, we should be glad to see England bring the war to a close with complete satisfaction to herself next week, if such a thing were possible.

The Ohio statesman who fled from his post as consul for this government at the Boer capital so soon as hostilities began and bullets began to fly, is reported as explaining that he wanted to come home to urge the cause of the Boers upon our government, being in full sympathy with them. He did right to come home, evidently, as he fails to possess the qualifications of a representative of a neutral government under difficulties such as presented themselves. There is too much of Ohio in our foreign business, anyhow.—Raleigh Post.

A BROKEN PANE OF GLASS.

One That Once Cost Citizen George Francis Train $60,000.

A broken window pane once cost George Francis Train more than $60,000. It was this way: Citizen Train, "with the brains of 20 men in his head, all pulling different ways," went to Omaha in the spring of 1864. At that time he was the most talked of man in America. He had not a thing but money. He bought 5,000 city lots, and altogether spent several hundred thousand dollars. He boarded at the Herndon House, the best hotel in sight. The quixotic Train was regular in only one thing—his habits. He always occupied the same seat at the table. One morning a pane of glass was broken out of a window directly behind his chair. He protested and was advised to change his seat. He would not. Instead he paid a servant 10 cents a minute to stand between him and the draft. After breakfast he expostulated with the landlord, but received no satisfaction.

"Never mind," said Train. "In 60 days I will build a hotel that will ruin your business."

And he did. The contract was let that day. Scores of men were put to work. The site selected was Ninth and Harney streets, near the Missouri river. Citizen Train went to New York and engaged Colonel Cozzens, a noted caterer of that city, as manager for his hotel.

The building alone cost $40,000. The furnishings cost $20,000 more. In the basement was a gas plant—the only one west of St. Louis. The work was done on time, and, true to his word, 60 days after he threatened the manager of the Herndon House George Francis Train, citizen of the earth, opened his hotel, which he called the Cozzens House. The grand opening ball was attended by the governor of Nebraska and his staff, the mayor of Omaha and many notables from other states. The house was a blaze of glory and a scene of almost oriental magnificence. Just when the big reception was well on there was a sudden flash, a strange noise, and then—total darkness! The gas plant had collapsed.

The Cozzens House did a flourishing business for a year or two and the Herndon House was badly crippled. Finally Train fell out with his manager and the place was closed.

After the business part of Omaha moved back from the river the Herndon House declined and finally relapsed into a state of innocuous desuetude. A few years later it became the property of the Union Pacific railroad and is still used as the headquarters of that company in Omaha.

Dr. H. H. Hibbard, a St. Louis dentist, was the first clerk of the Cozzens House.

SALT RHEUM CURED BY

Johnston's Sarsaparilla

QUART BOTTLES.

JUST SEEN IN TIME.

Slight Skin Eruptions are a Warning of Something More Serious to Come. The Only Safe Way is to Heed the Warning. Johnston's Sarsaparilla is the Most Powerful Blood Purifier Known.

Nature, in her efforts to correct mistakes, which mistakes have come from careless living, or it may be from ancestors, shoots out pimples, blotches and other imperfections on the skin, as a warning that more serious troubles (perhaps tumors, cancers, erysipelas or pulmonary diseases) are certain to follow if you neglect to heed the warning and correct the mistakes.

Many a lingering, painful disease and many an early death has been avoided simply because these notes of warning have been heeded and the blood kept pure by a right use of JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA.

Miss Abbie J. Rande, of Marshall, Mich., writes:

"I was cured of a bad humor after suffering with it for five years. The doctors and my friends said it was salt rheum. It came out on my head, neck and ears, and then on my whole body. I was perfectly raw with it. What I suffered during those five years, is no use telling. Nobody would believe me if I did. I tried every medicine that was advertised to cure it. I spent money enough to buy a house. I heard JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA highly praised. I tried a bottle of it. I began to improve right away, and when I had finished the third bottle I was completely cured. I have never had a touch of it since. I never got any thing to do me the least good till I tried JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA. I would heartily advise all who are suffering from humors or skin disease of any kind to try it at once. I had also a good deal of stomach trouble, and was run down and miserable, but JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA made me all right."

The blood is your life and if you keep it pure and strong you can positively resist disease or face contagion fearlessly. JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA never fails. It is for sale by all druggists, in full quart bottles at only one dollar each.

I would not be without it even it cost $5 a bottle. Hundreds have used it on my recommendation and all say it never fails to cure throat, chest and lung troubles." Regular size 50 cents and $1.00. One Minute Cough Cure, cures

That is what it was made for

A Hindoo believing in the transmigration of souls, ate no animal food, because in destroying even a worm he might be destroying the body occupied by an ancestor. A traveler coming upon the Brahmin taking his vegetable meal, told him it was impossible to avoid destruction of animal life and, to prove it, focused a microscope on the fruit the Brahmin was eating. That pious person drew back horrified at the living forms he saw. What did he do? Throw away the fruit? Not he! He smashed the microscope and went on with his meal.

There are people who are suffering with weak lungs. They have an obstinate cough, are weak, emaciated, hopeless. They have been taught there's no hope for them. Some one puts into their hands one of Dr. Pierce's books or advertisements and through this medium they see healthy, happy men and women, who declare that their lungs had been weak, they had been racked by coughs, had been emaciated, feeble, hopeless, and were positively and permanently cured by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. These cures can be numbered by scores of thousands.

Are you sick? Will you throw aside the advertisement, break the microscope, or will you make one effort for health? Write to Dr. R. V. Pierce, at Buffalo, N. Y. There is no charge for consultation by letter. You'll get a prompt answer, with fatherly sympathy and medical skill combined.

An Editor's Life Saved by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

During the early part of October, 1896, I contracted a bad cold, which settled on my lungs and was neglected until I feared that consumption had appeared in an incipient state. I was constantly coughing and trying to expel something which I could not. I became alarmed and after giving the local doctor a trial bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and the result was immediate improvement, and after I had used three bottles my lungs were restored to their healthy state.—B. For the Babies.

There is no better medicine for the babies than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Its pleasant taste and prompt and effectual cures make it a favorite with mothers and small children. It quickly cures their coughs and colds, preventing pneumonia or other serious consequences. It also cures croup and has been used in tens of thousands of cases without a single failure so far as we have been able to learn. It not only cures croup, but when given as soon as the croupy cough appears, will prevent the attack. In cases of whooping cough it liquefies the tough mucous, making it easier to expectorate, and lessens the severity and frequency of the paroxysms of coughing, thus depriving that disease of all dangerous consequences. Scrofula, a Vile Inheritance.

Scrofula is the most obstinate of blood troubles, and is often the result of an inherited taint in the blood. S. S. S. is the only remedy which goes deep enough to reach Scrofula; it forces out every trace of the disease, and cures the worst cases.

My son, Charlie, was afflicted from infancy with Scrofula, and he suffered so that it was impossible to dress him for three years. His head and body were a mass of sores, and his eyesight also became affected. No treatment was spared that we thought would relieve him, but he grew worse until his condition was indeed pitiable. I had almost despaired of his ever being cured, when by the advice of a friend we gave him S. S. S. (Swift's Specific). A decided improvement was the result, and after he had taken a dozen bottles, no one who knew of his former dreadful condition would have recognized him. All the sores on his body have healed, his skin is perfectly clear and smooth and he has been restored to perfect health.

reaches all deep-seated cases which other remedies have no effect upon. It is the only blood remedy guaranteed purely vegetable, and contains no potash, mercury, or other mineral.

WINE OF CARDUI

HEALTHY OLD AGE.

LARUE, BENTON CO. ARK., Aug. 4.
I am 49 years old and have been suffering with Change of Life. I had flooding spells so bad that none thought I could live. My husband got me Wine of Cardui and it saved my life. I am like another person since taking it.
MRS E. B. TOWNSEND.

McELREE'S Wine of Cardui

It is the devout wish of nearly all people to live to a ripe old age. None of us want to die young. This universal desire can be realized if care be taken of the health in early and middle life. A little precaution then will add many years to our existence. Death can be kept away a long time. Happy, healthy old age will be the lot of the woman who promptly corrects the ailments which afflict her sex. In youth, Wine of Cardui will take the female child safely over the dividing line between girlhood and womanhood. As a wife she needs it to help her through the trials of pregnancy and childbirth with as little discomfort as possible. At the Change of Life it will help her over the dangerous place that appears in her pathway between 40 and 50. Then will come many years of truly blissful existence. She will grow old slowly and gracefully. To the last she will preserve that charm and beauty which are always characteristic of perfectly healthy grandmothers.

BRIEF LOCAL MATTERS.

A freight train came in from the north about noon today covered with a depth of several inches of snow.

Dr. Chas. D. McIver's son, who has been ill some time, is doing well and will soon be out. His fever is about broken.

Ross Hummel, who was wounded a few days ago by two pistol balls, the physicians say, now has a fighting chance for his life.

The Postal Telegraph Company, it is learned, will establish their office and headquarters in this city in the Benbow House building.

Geo. Phillips, who has been ill with fever since January 1st, is much improved today, and it is thought he will soon be convelescent.

The pretty new residence of Mr. Howard Gardner on Summit avenue, is about complete and will be ready for occupancy next week.

The condition of Mrs. J. M. Rosenblatt is more hopeful today. Dr. Turner says she is getting along as well as could be expected.

The Beautiful Snow:—E. M. Caldcleugh & Bro, have just received a nice stock of white ware, fine glass ware, Gardner's decorated ware. 1t

Health certificates are still in demand if you want to go to Chatham, but Chatham people are about the only ones put to much inconvenience so far.

A day or two ago an old man, and a preacher, residing in Chatham county, resorted to the Liberty dodge in order to get home without spending a dollar for a health certificate.

There will be thank offering memorial services for Francis E. Willard at Grace M. E. Church tomorrow night at 7:30. Address by Prof. T. A. Smoot, of Greensboro Female College.

The Lindsay chair company of High point, with a capitalization of $15,000, was granted articles of incorporators are A. B. Sapp, E. A. Snow, J. A. Lindsay, E A. Bencini and R. E Dalton.

Dr E. W. Smith will begin tomorrow night in the 1st Presbyterian church, a series of night sermons on "The Creed of Christ, or what Jesus believed." The public is cordially invited.

Get in the push and go to Bendheim's. Their clean sweep sale is attracting large crowds. Some of the lots advertised are not large and will not last long at the rate they are clearing them out.

Ladies clean your kid gloves with LaBelle glove cleaner. It is not a liquid, leaves no odor and can be used while the glove is on the hand. For sale only by Grissom & Fordham, druggists. 3m.

Unless prevented by the inclement weather, Rev. John E. White and Mr. J. W. Bailey will speak at Washington Street church tomorrow night. Public cordially invited. Two fine addresses will be heard by those who attend.

A handsome new soda fountain has been installed at Gardner's drug store. It is one of Lippincott's latest designers, made of onyx and equipped with porcelain jars and hard rubber faucettes. Gardner's has always been a nice place to drink. It is more attractive now.

This particular part of the sunny south is now getting some little taste of winter. Fitful gusts of snow have been falling at intervals for twenty-four hours. This morning the sidewalks were exceedingly treacherous, being covered with ice. Some hail has also fallen. From reports this spell of winter weather is pretty general.

The popularity of Rev. Dr. E. W. Smith, pastor of the First Presbyterian church in this city is shown from the fact that he has recently received overtures from two large churches in large cities. Both of them are large salaried appointments, perhaps much larger than the church here pays, but Dr. Smith loves his work and his people, and his people love him, and there is no prospect of an early severing of their relations as pastor and people.

MRS. BYNUM PASSES AWAY

THE END CAME PEACEFULLY AT SIX THIS MORNING.

Severe Suffering Sustained by a Wonderful Christian Fortitude.

At six o'clock this morning, after a most brave struggle with a fatal illness, the pure spirit of Mrs. John Gray Bynum entered into rest. All that loving relatives and devoted friends, with the aid of skilled physicians, could do, was in vain

Throughout her entire illness she was sustained by a rare Christian fortitude that enabled her to look with calm and trusting resignation upon any ordeal through which she might be called upon to pass. She was a woman of great culture of mind and heart, of a bright, happy disposition, and her transition from earth to heaven was as gentle as the going down of a summer's sun. In the home, in the hearts of loved ones and friends, there is a vacancy that can never again be filled. Those who knew her, loved her, and only they can appreciate in full the blessings of her life and the sadness of her loss.

Before her marriage thirty years ago to Judge Jno. Gray Bynum, Mrs. Bynum was Miss Henrietta Ervin, of Morganton. Besides her husband, her sisters Mrs. Jones, of Greensboro, Mrs. Green, of Wilson and Mrs. McConnaughey, of Morganton, survive her.

None of the details for the funeral have yet been arranged. It has not yet been determined whether the interment will be at Greensboro or Morganton.

Good Features of Wood Working Factories.

Charity and Children:

We have again and again urged upon our people the importance of establishing small factories for working up the timber we are now selling in foreign markets at little or no profit. High Point stands ready always to back our argument with the cold cash. Twenty years ago it was a straggling railroad station; today it is a fine town of nearly five thousand people with twenty odd furniture factories, all on a solid basis. We have been informed that every single one of these factories has a "giltedge" credit and pays handsome dividends to its owners. Here in Thomasville we have a half dozen factories that manufacture spokes and handles, chairs, chiffoniers, veneering, sash, doors and blinds, etc. They are all highly prosperous and the stock is not for sale. The beauty about these smaller industries is that they can be started on a capital that is within easy reach of the ordinary North Carolina town. From two to five thousand dollars is amply sufficient to begin on. Another thing is, that, like the savings bank, they benefit people of small means, and do not appeal to men already rich. This is a power of great moment. The third and best feature is one that we have often mentioned before, and that is that neither children nor women can be employed, except to do errands or electrical work. Thus the heads of the families take the natural place as bread-winners for the household, and not as lordly loafers to explain the money question and drink cheap whiskey.

Wet feet cause more colds, grip and sickness of various kinds than any other half dozen causes combined. This being the case, keep your feet dry. We have a lot of shoes to sell that are just a trifle shopworn, not hurt a bit, just as good as they were the day they came ot of the factory, but you can have them with the profit all off and a good many of them at less than cost. When you come to think of it, twenty minutes wear in this kind of weather knocks all the "new out of a pair of shoes anyhow, so you can just as well buy a pair of these shoes as marked down and save fifty cents or a dollar. All sorts of shoes in this lot, men's, women's and children's. Thacker & Brockmann.

ALL THE YEAR for $5. Nothing is so entertaining in the home as the machine that plays, sings and recites. Young and old are delighted. Hear it. Moore Optical & Talking Machine Co. 2t.
